1.0 BACKGROUND

1.1 Overview

At Abdulahi Consulting, we firmly believe that collaboration and partnership are fundamental to supporting a greater number of individuals affected by displacement. By working closely with a humanitarian and development actors in field locations or global headquarters, we are able to address complex challenges collectively. This collaborative approach enables us to develop and implement effective solutions that respond directly to the needs of displaced communities in camps and camp like situations often in protracted crisis. Our partnership involves programme implementation, consultancy contracts and or research collaboration which helps address common challenges. We are proud of existing partners who are making difference in the lives of millions of people affected by displacement.

We strive to improve the existing partnerships and attract new one to ensure our business and operational goals are met and our targets are met. We think building sustainable partnerships helps communities by fostering a sense of ownership and retaining skills and knowledge that is why we emphasise national NGOs and Civil society organizations (CSOs) and work towards equitable localisation in all responses.

2.0 WHO DO WE PARTNER WITH

2.1.1 The United Nations (UN)

We partner with the UN for programme monitoring and research, expanding key insights and working towards our shared thematic focus – Durable Solutions and Education in Emergencies (EiE). A focus of Abdulahi consulting is to expand UN partnership in the future to include programme implementation tailored to our thematic focus.

2.1.2 International Non-Governmental Organisations (INGOs)

For INGOs, our partnership involves business development (Proposal writing), Research and MERL services including programme monitoring and evaluation/impact assessment, capacity building support and more recently join programme implementation (where Abdulahi Consulting will lead a thematic area under the programme implementation)

We actively contribute to the success of their programs or their resource mobilization efforts as part of framework Agreements or direct bidding process. INGOs are also collaborators in our research and development work including MERL services either as clients or collaborators.

2.1.3 National Non-Governmental Organisation (NNGOs)

For NGOs, we work with them through the localisation agenda, resource mobilization and capacity building support in technical areas that are of interest to national staff. We bring expertise and global best practice to support local efforts.

The shared goal of the humanitarian and development is the improvement of service delivery and the attainment of durable solutions for the displaced. This can be seen in our moto' 'PEOPLE SERVED, PROBLEM SOLVED' we envision to positively impact the lives of the most vulnerable and displacement affected communities worldwide with our humanitarian consulting, we want to improve the humanitarian responses, and we want people to end their displacement and achieve durable solutions.

2.1.4 Private Sector

The private sector is an emerging actor in the response of humanitarian and one of our new areas of focus considering the funding cuts and shrinking humanitarian space. We work with INGOs and NGOs in accessing potential funding opportunities in the private sector. Other potential areas include technical assistance in programmes such as TVET and Youth employment.

2.1.5 Research Institutions

Research institutions help us in conducting original research in a given area, our collaborative efforts are geared towards our thematic areas.

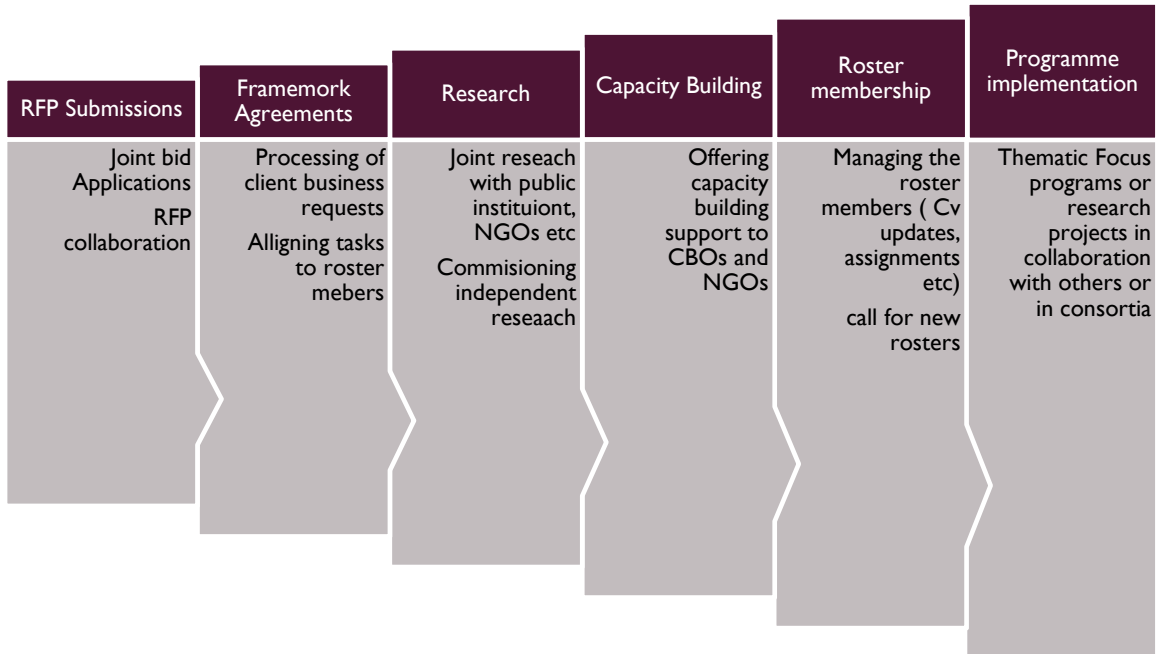

2.1.6 Fellow Consultancies

We work with Fellow Consultancies to collaborate on RFP submissions including joint applications, local data collection and the improvement of data collection

2.1.7 National Governments

We are yet to work with national government; our focus will be research commission and studies.

3.0 PARTNERSHIP MODELS

4.0 PRINCIPLES OF PARTNERSHIP
